

University of Groningen

The health of segregated Roma: first-line views and practices

Belak, Andrej

DOI:
10.33612/diss.96871255

IMPORTANT NOTE: You are advised to consult the publisher's version (publisher's PDF) if you wish to cite from it. Please check the document version below.

Document Version
Publisher's PDF, also known as Version of record

Publication date:
2019

Link to publication in University of Groningen/UMCG research database

Citation for published version (APA):

Belak, A. (2019). The health of segregated Roma: first-line views and practices: a case study in Slovakia using ethnographic methods. [Thesis fully internal (DIV), University of Groningen]. University of Groningen. <https://doi.org/10.33612/diss.96871255>

Copyright

Other than for strictly personal use, it is not permitted to download or to forward/distribute the text or part of it without the consent of the author(s) and/or copyright holder(s), unless the work is under an open content license (like Creative Commons).

The publication may also be distributed here under the terms of Article 25fa of the Dutch Copyright Act, indicated by the "Taverne" license. More information can be found on the University of Groningen website: <https://www.rug.nl/library/open-access/self-archiving-pure/taverne-amendment>.

Take-down policy

If you believe that this document breaches copyright please contact us providing details, and we will remove access to the work immediately and investigate your claim.

Downloaded from the University of Groningen/UMCG research database (Pure): <http://www.rug.nl/research/portal>. For technical reasons the number of authors shown on this cover page is limited to 10 maximum.

Stellingen

Behorende bij het proefschrift

The health of segregated Roma: first-line views and practices

Andrej Belak

2nd of October 2019

1. Segregated Roma are also being oppressed through their self-exclusionary hopes and tastes.

Chapter 3 of this thesis

2. Pushed and pulled towards the so-called margins, most segregated Roma become skilled at escaping the relative disadvantages of life standard in the so-called centers.

Chapter 4 of this thesis

3. Many people who happen to serve segregated Roma feel that such position gradually forces them to choose between useless burnout and cynical neglect.

Chapter 5 of this thesis

4. Trusting segregated Roma with more decision power and resources causes many of them to challenge the local structures that oppress them.

Chapter 6 of this thesis

5. It would require a rather explicit selection process to make any risky genes concentrate in any Roma group – much more selective than Roma history could lead to.

Chapter 7 of this thesis

6. Antigypsyism drives the poor health status of the Roma, mostly because most people involved, including segregated Roma, do not understand that it is so.

Discussion of this thesis

7. We cannot claim to have formulated a convincing denial of the inequality of the human races, so long as we fail to consider the problem of the inequality — or diversity — of human cultures, which is in fact — however unjustifiably — closely associated with it in the public mind.

Claude Levi-Strauss

8. We're all going to die, all of us, what a circus! That alone should make us love each other but it doesn't. We are terrorized and flattened by trivialities, we are eaten up by nothing.

Charles Bukowski

9. We live in a world where we have to hide to make love, while violence is practiced in broad daylight.

John Lennon

10. We are lost, but other animals point to the right road. They are the right road.

John Zerzan